

MATTHIAS KOEBERLIN IS

DETECTIVE
HARTWIG SEELER

DETECTIVE HARTWIG SEELER

1. Dangerous Memory

When twenty-four-year-old Evelyn Keppler goes missing without a trace, her desperate parents hire the introverted ex-cop and PI to find their daughter. Seeler's investigations lead him to the coast of the Adriatic Sea, where he finds the missing woman in a mysterious self-help group. Because Evelyn is psychologically unstable, the spiritual organisation uses hypnosis to find the cause of her trauma. But what is more disturbing are the circumstances that have driven Evelyn to this spiritual group; there are grave reasons for why the young woman wants to leave her old life behind.

2. A New Life

Since the death of his wife, Hartwig Seeler has been a private investigator. His former colleague Tascha invites him to the Republic of Malta or, to be precise, to its sister island Gozo. Years ago, Tascha had been held hostage. But everything had turned out fine, and, thanks to her testimony, the hostage taker had been put behind bars. But the problem now is that this guy has recently been released. Tascha is afraid that he could be out for revenge. In her panic she sees only one way out: to disappear completely.

Format	2 x 90' HD
Original title	Hartwig Seeler – Gefährliche Erinnerung/Ein neues Leben
Genre	Fiction TV Movie
Script	Johannes Fabrick
Director	Johannes Fabrick
Cast	Matthias Koeberlin, Friederike Becht, Caroline Hellwig, Emily Cox, Maximilian Brauer, Lasse Myhr, Dagny Dewath a.m.o.
Production	Hager Moss Film for ARD/Degeto

